This is the first time the entire Saga has been available in one complete collection. The nine-disc Saga will release on September 12, 2011 internationally, and on September 16 in North America in HD and 6.1 DTS Surround Sound, and including 40+ hours of special features, including never-before-seen content from the Lucasfilm archives.

The collection includes deleted, extended and alternative scenes, new documentaries and a selection of the myriad Star Wars spoofs.
